Corpus Christi Teachers College is a teacher training institution owned by the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Suva. The college aims to prepare intelligent, mature and caring Catholic teachers who can nurture the spiritual lives of their students especially in their Catholic faith. Catholic teachers see their task as a vocation and therefore a part of the Church's mission of evangelization. The programs provide quality preparation to produce primary school teachers who are formed personally, spiritually and professionally.

For an application to be considered, it must be completed with neat legible writing. Giving a false statement is an offense.
